

Simona Staffieri is a researcher at the Italian National Institute of Statistics, specialising in tourism. She holds several Master's degrees in Statistics and Economics, and is currently doing PhD research at the University of Rome on the tourism needs of young Italians. Staffieri became interested in sustainability while taking a course in 2011 on the future of mass consumption and the sustainable development of tourism.

---